Citizens Opposed Telephone Men.

Sawed Down Offending Poles.

Stood Off Employees

Telephone Folks Are Stubborn and Will Fight.

Hamilton, O., Sept. 24.—Following the arrest of the workmen of the Bell Telephone Co., Sunday, for erecting poles in front of residences, tearing up walks and destroying trees, came a day of practical rioting in Hamilton.

During the night citizens whose property had been damaged, by common understanding slipped out and in the darkness sawed down about 100 of the offending poles. Monday morning when the workmen started to resume work they found resolute property owners armed with revolvers in front of their homes. Many had garden hose, and turned them on the workmen, forcing them to retreat. Others menaced the laborers with firearms.

Joseph W. Dorn, representing citizens, secured an injunction. The crisis became so grave that the Board of Control called a special session, and revoked the permit under which the poles were being raised, and ordered all poles standing taken out in five days. The telephone company says it will not obey.

old bridge be left standing. We want the people to know that the Council is blocking this scheme, and will not be bulldozed into yielding. The span across the canal is 21 feet, but the bridge plans of the Board call for a span of 45 feet."

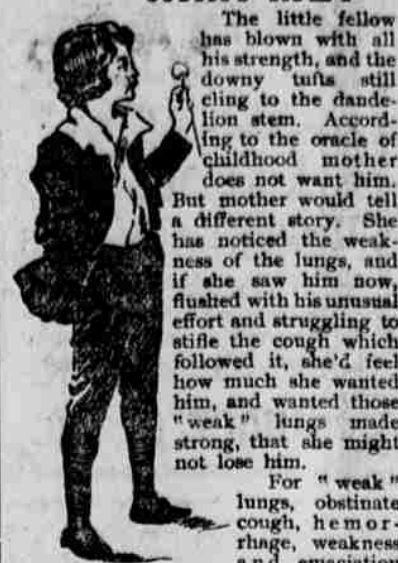

Mr. McMillen replied: "Mr. Martin certainly knows why it will be necessary to make the span more than 21 feet; it is necessary to enlarge it so that both lock beams may have room to work. You will also recall that iron has taken two advances within the past few months, and that the bridge company cannot hope to make any money on the bid it gave us."

Mr. Winum said: "I see now what your plan is. You want to force us to your way of thinking. You'll build the foundation for the bridge, and then let it stand if we don't pass your resolution."

It was at this juncture, Mr. Sawyer arose, and began with the statements mentioned in the first paragraph. He continued, "The chairman of the Board of City Commissioners stands up and tells us that our Civil Engineer cannot prepare bridge plans. He didn't tell me thus, but has not denied that he made the statement to another Councilman. When I spoke of this to Engineer Payne he was offended to think Mr. McMillen would make such a statement. There is no need for making a big contract out of this; any school boy could prepare plans for the kind of a bridge needed across the canal at Cherry st. If I could not prepare plans in 20 minutes that would be sufficient I should be willing to resign from this Council."

"The bridge now at Cherry st. is as strong as ever it was. I am not sure whether you could get enough of the phantoms or freight trains on it to break it down. There's no rottenness there (with strong accent on 'there'). No railroads ever build concrete abutments unless the location of the bridge is too far from a quarry. I don't won-

"DOES MOTHER WANT ME?"

The little fellow has blown with all his strength, and the downy tuft still clinging to the dandelion stem. According to the oracle of childhood mother does not want him. But mother would tell a different story. She has noticed the weakness of the lungs, and if she saw him now, flushed with his unusual effort and struggling to stifle the cough which followed it, she'd feel how much she wanted him, and wanted those "weak" lungs made strong, that she might not lose him.

For "weak" lungs, obstructive cough, hemorrhage, weakness and emaciation there is no medicine so healing and so strengthening as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is especially valuable for children, building up weak bodies with sound, healthy flesh. It is entirely free from alcohol and narcotics.

"Winter before this, my oldest boy (who is now nearly five years old), had a terrible cough; he had it the whole winter and all summer," writes J. M. Farr, Esq., of Canton, N. Y. "Physicians did him no good and nothing my wife and I could do did him any good. After your 'Discovery' had cured my cough so quickly, when everything else failed, I wrote my wife to bring him back from the city, she having carried him there to see if the change would do him good. We were living in Savannah, Ga., at the time. She brought him back and after giving him your great 'Golden Medical Discovery' for a time, he entirely recovered."

der at this city's being bankrupt, when business is conducted as it is. We have four high-salaried Commissioners, and the law says they shall look after the streets, alleys and grounds of the city. Yet night after night I have known members of this Council to ask that streets be repaired or gutters cleaned, but all to no avail. As individuals, the members of the Board are all right—nice looking men, but even this qualification was jeopardized when the chairman came to an understanding with the barbers.

"You can oust the Board of Commissioners for incompetency, and if a blow is struck to tear down that bridge at Cherry st., I shall prepare a resolution to oust every member of the Board for incompetency. This state of affairs is intolerable. Contractors are asked to submit bids in a haphazard way on no particular plan. Why not have your plans drawn up, and invite bids on it in a systematic, business-like way. For a small bridge like this, you don't need to place the contract into the hands of a bridge company—to make a big thing out of it. Let our own engineer, paid to do this work, prepare plans, and then buy the material. You ought to be able to do this without being imposed upon by sellers of material. If our engineer cannot prepare these plans, then he is incompetent, and has no right to hold the office, but he feels insulted, and is justified in feeling so, by the statement that he is unable to prepare plans for a bridge."

"If any business plant in this city were run as the city is being conducted, it would be in the hands of a receiver inside of 15 minutes. I am positively disgusted with our city proceedings, and have felt like resigning from Council, never reading the proceedings of the city officials, and staying away from the City building."

Commissioner McMillen sprang to his feet, and said: "I want to vindicate myself and the Board. Mr. Sawyer has made statements here which are inconsistent, and which he does not believe himself. He knows he is wrong."

"If you mean to say I lie," replied Geo. W. Lane, Pewamo, Mich., "Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid."

Wm. Warner, Gem Pharmacy, 113 S. Howard st.

Mr. Sawyer, "I'll say right here that you are a liar. I have stated nothing but the truth."

"I did not say you were a liar," said Mr. McMillen, "but I did say that you made statements which are not correct, and which I believe you know are not correct."

"If you were to call me a liar in the street you'd be sorry for it," replied Mr. Sawyer.

Here the men were both called to order.

"I don't mean to abuse, nor will I be abused," added Mr. McMillen. "Council has an idea that the Commissioners have something in this bridge deal, but—"

"You're the first man to intimate bribery," interrupted Mr. Sawyer.

Here Commissioner McFarland stated that he had inspected the bridge casually, and believed it unsafe.

A motion expressing it as the sense of the Council that the Commissioners repair the old bridge at Cherry st. was passed.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all drug stores.

RETIRED.

Sampson Relieved From Duty.

Gave Ill Health as the Reason.

Could Have Been Retired Had He Stayed Till February.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—Rear Admiral Sampson has requested the Navy department to relieve him of his present duty as commandant of the Boston navy yard on Oct. 1, on account of the bad condition of his health. Secretary Long has granted the request.

Rear Admiral Mortimer L. Johnson, commandant of the Port Royal naval station, will assume command of the Boston navy yard on Oct. 1. Adl Sampson will retire by age limit Feb. 9, 1902. He could retire before that if he wished under the forty years' service clause on his own request, or he could apply for retirement to take effect immediately on account of poor health. However, as naval officers generally take pride in serving out their full term, it is probable that an extended leave of absence will keep Admiral Sampson on the active list until the 9th of February.

Rear Admiral Sampson, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. W. T. Cluverine, and his sons, Ralph and Harold, said goodbye to the navy yard Monday upon starting for Fort Hamilton, New York, to visit Mrs. Olive Scott, daughter of Admiral Sampson.

TODAY.

More Points Brought Against Schley.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—Today, Commander Hellner, who was navigator of the Texas in the Santiago fight testified that he had said during the battle that the Brooklyn (Schley's ship), "was standing up nicely to the enemy."

"To this his captain replied: 'Oh, crackers, never mind the Brooklyn; tend to this ship.' I heard the captain ring the main at the engine room indicators to slow up, then to stop. I exclaimed: 'Why, captain, they will all get away from us.' Then I said, 'Captain, we are out of the fight.'"

"He replied, 'Look at the Brooklyn.' I turned and saw the Brooklyn, a big gray ship looming up out of the smoke within 150 yards of us. My heart came up into my mouth. Then I saw that she was steering with heavy helm and slowly sheered off 2,000 yards to sea and finally she went west."

"Order was then given to go ahead full speed, and a forced draft was used. We were then inside of the Oregon, though before our stop both the Oregon and Iowa were behind us." Hellner said in reply to a question that the Texas was in the greatest danger during battle, when the "Brooklyn" loomed up directly in front of us."

Kodol

Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

You might as well put fuel under a boiler without burning it and expect the engine to run, as to eat food and not digest it and expect to keep up nourishment for your body. You must have nourishment to live and when you cannot digest your food, Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do it for you, with no aid whatever from the stomach. It contains exactly the same elements as Nature's digestive fluids and can't help but produce the same results.—David Taylor, Blind Ridge, Pa., writes: "I have been afflicted for a number of years with dyspepsia and have tried various remedies without good results but was cured by one bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. I cannot say too much in its favor."

It can't help but do you good
